EUROPEAN STORMS.

Immense Damage Done and Great Loss of Life Results—
Michigan Ore Docks
Destroyed.

Crimes and Casualties from Various Parts of the Country—A Legal Hanging in Pennsylvania.

Brussels, Nov. 30.—Reports from various parts of Europe show vast destruction of property and probable great loss of life as a result of the storms of yesterday. Twenty vessels are known to have been cast ashore.
The storm is one of the severest ever known on this continent.

Big Ore Docks Burned.
Detroit, Mich., Nov. 30.—The immense ore dock at Ecorse, Mich.,
burned last night, entailing a loss of a million dollars.

The Shot Was Fatal.
De Koven, Ky., Nov. 30.—Walter Whitehead, who was shot yesterday
by Gus Shipley, died this morning.
The shooting was in self defense.

Hanged By Law.
Snowden, Pa., Nov. 30.—George Douglas, a negro murderer, was hanged at Pitsburgh today by the sheriff.

All Over a Woman.
Sturgis, Ky., Nov. 30.—Tony Hughes killed George Smith this morning here in a fight which came up over a woman.

RAILROAD COMMISSION.
Complete Their Annual Report of Kentucky Roads.

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 30.—The railroad commission has completed its annual report. It shows a large decrease in the net earnings of Kentucky railroads.

NOTES FROM BREWERS.

Brewers, Ky., Nov. 29.—General property has truly visited this place. His footprints are seen at R.
W. Perry's in the shape of a fine cottage. At H. B. Adkins' in goat and grain. At Dr. E. P. Dunaway's, a new house and young wife. At M.
G. Phillips', a house erecting. At Bud Chester's a new barn. At Tom Chester's a new house under way. At J. M. Smith's a fine stable, stables and lumber being cut for a new house. A large feed barn towers up in T. E. Henders' back lot. Corn wheat 50 cents per bushel. Tobacco 8 and 10 cents. Wheat worth two Mexican silver dollars, and better things looked for all along the line.

Mr. James Parker & Son, general merchandise and postmaster of this place, has purchased a lot of half mile west of here, and will soon move residence and postoffice to it.
The S. S. Green saw mill is doing a lively business.
The Yeoman Wood Works of this place is doing a wholesale business in making and selling spinning wheels.

WEATHER PROSPECT.
THREE DEER
is What Dr. Frank Boyd Killed in Michigan.

Dr. Frank Boyd returned this morning from his hunt in Michigan.
Supt. V. J. Hills returned yesterday, but Mr. George Robertson will not return for some time.

Dr. Boyd himself killed three deer, but the whole party, during their hunt, killed ten or a dozen of them, in addition to much small game.

We have fifty pairs of shoes that will be sold for $2.50; others ask $3.50. Call and see them, extra high tips, three soles, oil grain, water proof, just the thing for hunting and bad weather. Call early and be litted. Lendler & Lydon. 30th St.

SEWERAGE BEING TESTED.

Quite a Crowd Assembles at the City Hall to Attend the Inspection of Our Sewerage System.

Police Court In Session This Morning—Other News In and About the City of Interest.

This afternoon at 2:30 o'clock the mayor, council, Consulting Engineer Elliot, City Engineer Wilcox, Contractor White, newspaper representatives and others assembled at the city hall for the purpose of inspecting the sewerage system.

The crowd proceeded to Sixth and Jefferson streets, where the inspection began.

It was still in progress at press
time, and everything pointed to a successful test.

William Copeland, aged 70 years, died Sunday of pneumonia at his home near Oak Level, Marshall county. He leaves a wife and several children.

Chas. Duer, colored, has been warranted on a charge of housebreaking. He is at large.

The fire department was called to Third and Husbands streets about 1 o'clock this morning to extinguish a blaze in a stable on the premises of Mrs. Price, supposed to have been started by a tramp. Dispatched by Hills, of the N. C. & St. L., discovered the fire.

An eccentric looking individual giving the name of Prof. L. C. Slater, of Brookville, Bracken county, struck town last night. He is very sensible, wears long hair, and is sixty seven years old. He claims to be a poet, author, actor and singer, and gave evidences of his talent in various places last night.

The little son of the late Mr. H. A.
Gardner left this morning for Louisville to be placed in the Masonic Home.

This morning a horse driven to one of Mr. J. J. Reed's coal wagons became weak in the knees, and sank down near Broadway and Tenth, in the middle of the street. A large crowd soon collected, and the animal was soon uplifted by means of levers,
and taken to the stable for treatment.

The remains of the tramp supposed to be W. J. Sammons, who dropped dead in "Cathie" Jones' restaurant a few weeks ago, were buried in the county graveyard today.

Rev. J. L. Hill, of Princeton, Ky.,
and Rev. S. J. Smith, of Gallatin, Tenn., are guests of Dr. J. T. Reddick.

Andrew Boyd, who goes by the name of Lloyd, his step-father's name, was charged with stealing Actor Cal Melvin's watch at Mortch's opera house on the 20th of January.
The case was continued until Thurs-
day.

Miss Julia Crowell, of 1217 Broadway, was presented on a charge of stealing $20 from James Hendon,
who boards at the same house, Mrs.
Hendley's.

The plaintiff was sworn and testified that on the day he lost his money he drew it from the pay car and went to his boarding house. Two of his companions missed the pay car,
and he took his money out and offered to lend them some as a joke. In replacing the money in his pocket he dropped $20, but did not miss it until he went to the shops. When he went back after the lost money it was gone. He did not know who took the money, and was sober at the time, having had but two drinks.

Mr. Major White was introduced to show that she spent $5 in his store. The defense admitted that she purchased a cloak in the store, paying $5 for it.

Mrs. Arnold, who also boards at the house, swore that she saw the defendant with some money on the night Hendon claims to have lost some. She noticed a $10 bill and a $5 bill in her possession and thought one was new. She claimed that a man named T. C. Therman gave it to her to keep for him. Mrs. Arnold saw the man hand her some bills Saturday night and told her to put them in her pocket book. He afterwards accompanied them down town
to make some purchases.

Miss Crowell, when placed on the stand, swore that the man named above gave her the money. She said he had been giving her his money to pay their debts, and that they are going to be married.

The case was left open until Saturday that his evidence may be heard.

Florence Patton, Vle Ballowe,
Annie Cox, Mollie Grooms, Ida
French, Mollie Nief and Frankie Dixon, all of West Court street, were arraigned on a charge of keeping bawdy houses. Ida French is the only one who answered, and by agreement she was fined $50 and costs, and similar fines were assessed against the others.

Joseph and T. J. Hollahan were in court charged with stealing wheat.

WATER-TANK BURNED.

Blaze on the L. C. at Little Cypress—Accident at the Shops To-
day.

The Switch Engine Derailed—Several Prominent Railroad Men Here Last Night and Today—Other News.

The picturesque old water tank at Little Cypress, about fifteen miles above the city on the Illinois Central, was burned this morning at an early hour, delaying the "cannon ball" from Louisville until after 4 a. m.

The sight of a water tank burning was doubtless new to a majority of the passengers aboard. The blaze almost totally destroyed the huge receptacle, which had been in use for sixteen years, entailing a loss of $500 or more. The supposition this morning was that the blaze originated in the oil and tool house, which was located underneath the tank.

Superintendent of Telegraph G. M.
Dugan, of Chicago, was in the city
last night.

Roadmaster A. T. Sabin was in city today.

Supt. W. J. Harahan arrived yesterday afternoon from Louisville.

As stated exclusively in the Sun
several days ago, Yardmaster R. T.
Nelson has resigned on account of his health to take a position on the road, and has been succeeded by Mr.
Bob McCann.

Traveling Engineer R. D. Davis
and Assistant W. R. Keys were in the city yesterday inspecting air equipment of locomotives on the Memphis division.

The Union depot switch engine,
No. 121, was derailed near the Union depot at noon. The locomotive came up the incline with a train of coal cars, and near Sixth street the "drivers" split the switch, and she jumped across three different tracks. A hole was stove in her tank, spilling all her water.

The St. Louis train was delayed over half an hour. No one was injured by the accident.

Conductor John Whelan is here
today.

Car Inspector Pat Kilcayne is still on the sick list.

Mr. M. G. Sale, of South Fourth street, a carpenter at the I. C. shops, met with a painful accident this morning. A large chisel fell upon his foot and cut one of his toes off. The injury was dressed by the hospital surgeon.

An unknown man was killed near Dupuy Station, above Central City,
by the train which left here yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock. He was trying to ride a trestle horseback, and seemed to be drunk. His name had not been reported at headquarters
this afternoon.

Tramps are supposed to have accidentally set fire to the tank.

MR. SAM WEAR.

Re-Elected Inspector By the Tobacco Board.

This Year There Will Be But One
Inspector.

The Tobacco Board of Trade met yesterday for the purpose of electing an inspector for this locality.

The warehousemen and brokers
met in Col. T. H. Puryear's office and elected Mr. Sam Wear, who has been inspector for the past year.

Owing to some disagreement last year there were two inspectors, Messrs.
Wear and J. C. Piper, but this year
there will be but one.

COLDEST YET.

The Thermometer Went Down to 22 Degrees.

The minimum temperature this morning was 22 degrees above zero, the coldest of the season. It was a still cold, however, and was not felt so keenly as much warmer days.

If you shave yourself you cannot afford to be without a diamond razor guard. When using one of them it is impossible to cut yourself. If you have not seen them call at Scott's Hardware Co.'s and get one, only 25 cents.

DEATH IN ROWLANDTOWN.

Mr. J. T. Carter Died Last Night.

Mr. J. Theodore Carter, aged 31, died last night at his home in Row-landtown of consumption of the bowels. He leaves a wife and three children. The remains will be buried at 11 o'clock tomorrow at Rowland's burial ground, on the Blueville road.

ADJOURNED MEETING.

The Council Met Last Night and
Will Meet Again Tonight—
Cemetery Commissioners Chosen.

Action On the Jefferson Street Improvement Ordinance Was Deferred Until Tonight—The Other Proceedings.

The council met last night in adjournd session: all the members being present.

Mayor Yeiser mentioned the improvement of Adams street, between Eighth and Ninth, which is delayed by an old house in the street. Contractor E. C. Terrell was granted an extension of thirty days.

Mayor Yeiser read the certificates of election from the canvassers of the Democratic city officers, including mayor, councilmen, school trustees, judge, marshal, city prosecuting attorney, etc., their respective bond-men were notified, and the clerk instructed to issue certificates of election.

City Treasurer Donovan was allowed a voucher for $2,350 interest on the city bonds, and several other bills for money advanced, were allowed.

Mayor Yeiser read a report from the board of health relative to the train inspectors, over whose compensation there has been some controversy. On motion of Councilman Farley the report was received and Mrs. Dillon and Sanders were allowed twelve additional days' pay. They had already been allowed pay up to November 1.

A communication from Mrs. Birchett relative to some extra pay was referred to the hospital committee.

Mr. Livingston & Co. were allowed quarter license.

Mr. Rinkieff stated that some of the residents of West Jefferson street claimed they had been assessed when they signed the application that the proposed Jefferson street improvement would cost but 75 cents per foot, while it now developed that the cost would be $1.40. They therefore objected to it, and Mr. Rinkieff moved that an ordinance be drafted repealing the first ordinance.

Mr. Barnes objected to a repeal.
He said the mayor was not compelled to award any contract under the ordinance, but could readvertise for bids. The objection now raised, he said, was simply to kill the improvement. He moved that action be deferred until tomorrow night, and the motion prevailed.

Mr. Starks moved that an election of trustees for Oak Grove cemetery
for one, two and three years, respectively, be entered into. The three trustees were elected some time back, but they failed to qualify as it would have rendered them ineligible
as councilmen, all three being councilmen.

For the one year term Judge J. L.
Bellisair was elected.

For the two year term Mr. T. J.
Atkins was elected.

For the three year term Councilman J. E. Williamson was elected.

Councilman Kireloff said if something wasn't done to beautify the park in Fountain Park avenue donated by the property owners, the latter would withdraw it.

Chairman Kireloff, of the park committee, was authorized to do what he deemed necessary in the matter.

Councilman Barnes said a resolution had previously been passed authorizing the street inspector to roll
West Jefferson street and Fountain Park with the street roller, and it had never been done.

The street inspector was instructed to attend to it at once.

On motion of Mr. Bell the water company was instructed to extend the water mains from Smith & Scott's to Boyd street.

The water company was authorized to extend its mains to Trimble street
on Thirtieth.

Supt. Davis, of the electric light plant, was authorized to place a light
at Second and Ohio streets.

Councilman Williamson asked why the city's mule roller was allowed to obstruct Harrison street near Seventh, where it went into a sewer trench last week. The matter will be attended to.

The council adjourned until 7
o'clock tonight.

An English soap factory is to be established at Pittsburgh, Pa., of sufficient size to give employment to one thousand persons. As the alien contract law forbids importing any of their English workmen, the operatives of the factory must all be Americans. This is one effect of the Dingley tariff. It is a creator of home markets for American farm products.

Tax object of protection in America is not so much to raise prices, except where they are unreasonably low, as to keep the foreigner out of the market. The tariff that builds up and preserves for American industry the prosperous American market, "the best in the world," that is a protective tariff in the best sense of the world.—Hornellsville (N. Y.) Times.

The nerve of the Louisville Dispatch is refreshing. It wants the legislature to pass a law for its special benefit. The Dispatch claims that the news companies are boycotting it and it wants a law passed against boycotting. And yet, time and time again, the Dispatch has urged its readers to boycott all merchants who do not advertise in the Dispatch. In fact that has been the great argument or bluff that it has been using with which to get business. A boycott is all right—that is, if the right party is boycotted.

THE SIX has no interest in the sewer or the Democratic caucus, beyond what any good citizen may have, who desires that the public shall be well served. It has made but one decided criticism on the caucus' action, and it was and is a just one. The SIX recognizes the right of the council to elect to office any person who suits its pleasure and acknowledge their responsibility to the people. It believes the council wishes to act in the best interests of the city, and that it is not impelled to ignore any duty to their constituency, which they have assumed. The SIX believes the majority of the council-elect are good business men, who wish to do right. It does not believe they are either political or personal malignants, and have patriotism sufficient to exercise good, plain, common sense and practical judgment. The SIX is clearly of the opinion that the failure to reject Engineer Wilcox was a grave mistake and it reiterates the fact. It believes it is a blunder which even the rankest partisanship cannot excuse. It looks as if it were a reckless disregard of the public interest, spurred on by an intense, malignant partisan spirit. The SIX favors the sewer system as an admirable plan, approved by engineers to whom the city paid $100,000 for a plan, and by the present engineers and by good, common sense, and it believes the engineers in charge of construction should be retained until the plan is complete.

The Courier-Journal comes out with another two-column double headed editorial endeavoring to show "where it is at." In this editorial the Courier-Journal abandons the National Democratic movement and declares that it has proved itself to be a failure, that had all sound money Democrats followed the advice of the Courier-Journal and voted for Palmer and Buckner, W. J. Bryan would have been elected. It also states that "we have no fear of free silver at 16 to 1, or at any other ratio." In this latter idea we believe that the Courier-Journal is wrong. We have no fear that the country can be carried on a free silver platform, and we doubt very much whether the issue of free coinage at the ratio of 16 to 1 will ever be submitted to the people at a presidential election. But as the SIX has said before, it matters not what the issue may be in 1900, the personnel of the party opposed to a sound national currency will be approximately the same in 1900 as in 1896. The factor to be reckoned with in the future is Bryanism, and by Bryanism we mean that organized desire for office, which is all things to all men to gain victory. The rape of the Populist platform in '96 and the compilation of political vagaries known as the Chicago platform, shows the path to which the leaders of the party democracy were willing to get votes. It will be the same in 1900. The issue may not be free coinage at 16 to 1, and we believe that it will not, but there will be an issue and gathered around that issue will be found the same elements that came together and supported Bryan in 1900. A currency that is 60 per cent. flat will at a suffice in 1900; the issue will undoubtedly be "absolute paper money."

The Courier-Journal says: "The coming two years will be years of reflection, discussion and readjustment. Mea like Goodman and Whitney and Hill, who are still members of the regular Democratic organization, can not afford to throw away sure Democratic states on another campaign like that of 1896. The young Democracy of the great northwest can not afford to mortgage its future either to Mr. Bryan or to Gov. Algeid. By no possibility can the conditions of 1896 be exactly reproduced in 1900."

That depends upon the issue. Upon another Populist platform, Democracy will lose, in 1900 as in 1896, many formerly sure Democratic states, whether men like Hill, Goodman and Whitney will it or not. The young Democracy of the northwest is already so permeated with the cheap money doctrines that its yielding to Bryan or some other leader of like views is already assured. The result of the congressional elections next year will determine to a great extent the platform of 1900. That free coinage of silver will be the issue next year there can be no doubt. At the same time, however, every district can make its own platform, and therefore the resolutions adopted at the congressional conventions will show the sentiment of the people and the results of the elections will demonstrate whether the platform of 1896 will last until 1900. We believe that those persons, of whatever party affiliation, who belittle the struggle that is before the friends of a stable national currency in 1898 and 1900 have no just conception of the gravity of the situation or the staying power of the leaders of the Bryanite forces.

It is good news that comes from Washington that the Frankfort lottery has been completely knocked out by a decision handed down yesterday by the United States supreme court. The Frankfort lottery was authorized by the common council of Frankfort in 1869 for the purpose of raising $100,000 for "The Common School of Frankfort." This franchise was sold in December, 1875, to J. J. Douglas, Owen Stewart and T. F. Tutum, a private corporation of Louisville where it has since been operated. The suit against the Frankfort Lottery Company, and upon which Justice Harlan rendered his decision yesterday, was filed in the Jefferson circuit court March 8, 1892, and since that time the company has been able to keep itself out of the clutches of the law, by means of its vast wealth, which brought to its command the best legal talent in the country. The extent of its business can be imagined, from the fact that the company employed nearly a hundred persons in Louisville and its principal owner is said to have made nearly a million dollars out of the nefarious business. Speaking of the company the Louisville Post says: "The Frankfort lottery of Kentucky is one of the many oddities of legislation which followed the early grants of the General Assembly. As far back as 1820 lotteries were authorized. One to raise $10,000 for Kentucky river improvements; $5,000 for the Maysville & Lexington turnpike; $1,000 for a church at Frankfort; $25,000 for a medical college at Lexington, and a smaller sum for draining the ponds in and around Louisville, were authorized by the General Assemblies of that period."

Society & Gossip.

RIGHT merrily has whirled society's wheel the week just passed, for the social calendar has been a full one, each day bringing forth one or more pleasant function. Keeping the people in a state of perpetual motion. Events this week will be very few. If signs are true, so society folk can spend their leisure moments in cushioned chairs, passing their sins in review.

The Daughters of the American Revolution gathered in pleasant social Saturday afternoon at the inviting home of Mrs. M. B. Nash. A choice repast, served during the afternoon, added to the pleasure of the event. Mrs. Irene Cox will entertain the chapter on the last Saturday of next month.

On Saturday evening Miss Emma Reed was the hostess of the Chaffin Club, one of the most delightful informal among the several social clubs. Both the gentler and sterner sex enjoyed the hospitality extended.

Mrs. E. R. Sutherland, ably assisted by Miss Mary Halloran, entertained this afternoon at her home on West Jefferson street, in honor of Mrs. Stickey, of Bowling Green.

A small stove party was entertained at the Saturday evening at the home of Miss Daisy Goodwin, on North Seventh street.

December five 10th is the date of the Clark-Tyler wedding in Washington, D. C., and society both in Louisville and Washington is on the tip-toe of excitement over the anticipated event.

At the residence of Mrs. Cobb, on Broadway, Mrs. C. B. Austin will entertain the Crokinole Club Friday afternoon.

Owing to unaccountable circumstances the Young Ladies' Clique Club will not hold a meeting this week. The next meeting will be with Miss Martha Leach, on North Fourth street.

The Junior Warlen Missionary Society of the Broadway Methodist church, will have a reception this evening at the residence of Mr. B. H. Scott. A musical program is to be the feature of the evening and refreshments will be served.

After the meeting of the (Build of Grace) church last evening with Mrs. George Langstaff, on Court street, a sale of pictures took place. Pictures by Gibson, Frost, Smalley and other well known artists, were knocked off to the highest bidder.

A Christmas market and bazaar, under the auspices of the Epworth League of the Broadway Methodist church, will be held in a downtown building, beginning Dec. 18.

WOMENITY'S FASHION PHILLS.

Velvet picture hats are very popular this year, and especially when worn by the possessor of an attractive youthful face.

The newest shade of blue is best described as the shade of cornflower when it has begun to fade.

Bright colors are seen this year in the gloves. Vivid reds, greens and blues are shown in great variety.

On account of the popularity of the Russian blouse, handsome belts are very much in demand. Some beautiful designs are shown in hammered silver and gold, set with mock jewels.

London smoke is the name of an effect, deep gray, which will be in high favor this season for calling gowns.

All the shades of castor are to be the vogue among the best dressed women.

All the old fashioned stones from chrysoprase to emeralds are in favor, and coral and dabbled silver is the height of elegance this season.

A young gentleman in the city, quite a scientific whist player by the way, was invited to join a party of ladies in an afternoon progressive whist game a few days ago.

He accepted the invitation, and while there photographed the conversation. He doesn't explain how he did it, and doesn't produce the photographic duplicates, all he does is to assume a metallic voice and show how the photograph does it. Something like this:

"Why, so glad to see you again?"

"No deals?"

"Yes, we were waiting for the Sixth street car."

"Oh, is it my play?"

"She had eighty-four yards!"

"What a trump, please?"

"They had to stay up all night with it."

"Yes, George is in St. Louis."

"Dear me, I had forgotten all about the suit you lead from!"

"Mary has a new dressmaker and—"

"Can't I take it back?"

"There's that Mrs. Blauk winning every hand. I suppose she'll gobble another prize."

"I won't do a thing to you, didn't you know that was my neck?"

"Have you seen her new hat? Well, she looks like a guy in it!"

"Say, there's a mischief some-where!"

"Dear me, I have two extra cards."

"You snatched up two of mine. Give them back or I'll have you arrested."

"What a hand—deal over!"

"Mrs. Johnson is learning to ride the wheel."

"That old thing?"

"There, we have to cut again!"

"Did you hear that awful story about the Browns?"

"Hurrah! We go!"

"Who's got a pencil?"

"I worship you," he cried, bowing and imprinting a passionate kiss upon her small, white hand.

But she drew back and put him from her, a look of surprise and reproach upon her fair face.

"Forgive me if I have offended you," he begged.

"I am shocked and grieved at such conduct," she said, her cold, steady gaze fixed upon him, "you are a young lawyer with flattering prospects; you expect to rise in the world, and I must say that I—"

"But I only kissed your hand," he broke in.

"As I was going to say," she went on, "I expected you to aim higher."

When he recovered from the shock he found himself standing at the gate in the moonlight, alone.

A near-sighted young woman walking down Broadway, gave a glance at the window of a dry goods house within where several very fine samples of fashionable plaid hosiery were displayed. She checked a scream as she said to her companion: "Oh, come here quick and relieve my suspense!"

"How?" said her friend.

"Why, tell me what I am looking at—those constrictors or golf stockings."

This is the last imported English society story: "If any one should call this afternoon Brigat, say I am not feeling well. I am afraid I ate too much of that gel plum pudding for lunch, and it or something else has given me a raging headache. I am going to lie down. A few moments later the mistress from her room near the head of the stairs heard Brigat say to two ladies who called for the first time: "Yes, yes, Mrs. A. is at home, but she ate so much plum pudding for lunch that she can't stand up so she went to bed to try to make herself feel more comfortable like."

The tempter howled, The fragile maid clinging wildly to the wreck— Wave swept the color left her cheek And ran all down her neck.

"There ought to be an edict against the lavish use of rings," said a gentleman to a young lady friend one day last week. "In my opinion nothing is so ill formed. It seems to go with imitation diamonds and flower girls. If the girls would only believe that the complexion God gave them was far prettier than drug store complexion it would be a benefit to their friends as well as themselves. Another thing," said he, "that goes with painted cheeks, bleached hair, etc., is a lavish use of perfumes. Soap and water, and lemon powder are more refreshing on cold days and on hot days or any other kind of days, than any amount of cheap 'cologne.' How much more delightful it would be to sit beside a man (for it is the men that saturate their handkerchiefs) in a street car and such places, if he would let perfume seep from his pores."

Mr. Tom Moss, Jr., returned from Idaho Saturday after a three months' visit.

Miss Irma Hecht is home from a visit to Louisville.

Mr. B. A. James, of Evansville, spent Sunday in the city.

Miss Jennette Campbell has returned from an extended visit to Owensboro.

Mr. and Mrs. M. D. McArdle, of St. Louis, are in the city on a visit to Mrs. McArdle's parents, Rev. and Mrs. B. E. Reed.

Mr. Henry Powell left for his home in Henderson Sunday.

Mr. Saunders Fowler has returned from Arkansas.

Mr. Starling Thompson and H. A. Caldwell left Monday, after a short visit in the city.

INGENIOUS PRISONERS.

Queer Things Made Without the Aid of the Simplest Tools.

Tailor Whitman, of the county jail, has on his desk a lamp which is at once a curiosity and a specimen of what can be done by a prisoner with scant materials. It was taken from the cell of two of the prisoners last week, and is now on exhibition.

The lamp is nearly as simple as the old Roman ones composed of a floating wick and a vessel of oil. In this case, the receptacle for oil is a white bottle, about eight inches in height, of the shape favored by merchants who have been in prohibition towns, with a capacity of perhaps a quart. When opened by the guards it was filled with gasoline, a fact that would make its use exceedingly dangerous. The burner is composed of a cork and part of a gas jet. The tip of the jet containing the slot-shaped opening for the escape of the gas had been removed, leaving a round hole in the end of the jet. A round hole had been made in the cork of the bottle with a knife, and into this the jet had been thrust, making a simple but effective burner.

In the manufacture of the wick, considerable ingenuity had been shown. It is composed wholly of white twine, twisted into strands, and these strands braided together in a round cord, as smooth and regular in appearance as a braided cash cord. The wick runs through the jet down into the bottle.

A number of plumb lines had been at work about the jail building just before the lamp was made. It is supposed that the gasoline in the bottle was taken from their torches, while the other materials had been picked up in old places. The only motive for the manufacture of the lamp which the jailer can assign is a restless longing for something to do, as the cell of all the prisoners are brilliantly lighted by electricity.

Another article of prisoner manufacture in Jailer Whitman's possession is a "willy," of which the jailer has heard, usually filled with bird shot, is packed with tightly rolled pieces of tin foil. Much of the smoking tobacco in common use is packed in tin foil, and this, the jailer thinks, is the source from which the willy was obtained. The tin foil was pounded into hard lumps, and makes a fair substitute for shot as lead for the bullet. Its use is of course, light and weight, and it is supposed that the leather cover is from an old shoe. The whole makes a fair substitute for a regular willy, and might be used with considerable effect as a weapon.

In the penitentiaries many contrivances are turned out by the convicts, but in the county jail the absence of anything in the way of tools makes these specimens of prisoners' ingenuity rather rare.—Chicago Times-Herald.

Phenomenon in a Cemetery.

In a quiet old cemetery at Bass Harbor, Me., lies an aged couple who were noted in their life for their piety and their active interest in meetings and other good works. The old gentleman in his exhortation would often speak of wearing the crown, while the old lady often spoke of blossoming as the rose. After the tombstones had been erected at the graves with their names and ages duly chronicled thereon, there appeared on his tombstone distinctly outlined the figure of a crown, while on hers appeared the figure of a full blown rose. The fact is well authenticated by many people who have visited the cemetery on purpose to see the wonderful sight.—Chicago Chronicle.

Railroad Item.

Notice!

You have just one week longer to purchase a piano or organ from the Kimball stock, 430 Broadway, as we positively will ship the balance. It has been stated that Mr. E. F. Greenwood would not return from Chicago; that someone else would come and attend to the business of the business would continue. It seems other people try to place our business; however, we are here to carry out just what we advertised last week, that is: To close out this business; if the people can't see it to their advantage to purchase a first-class piano or organ at prices they will never have such an opportunity again. You can rest assured that this is a genuine closing out business, and do not miss a good chance for a piano.

THE THREE RIVERS.

Items of Marine News Picked Up on the Levee of Interest to All.

Business was quite active on the wharf this morning and considerable freight was handled by the packets, consigned to different points.

The Dick Fowler was the first to leave this morning. She headed down the river for Cairo at 8:30 sharp, doing a nice business.

The P. D. Staggs arrived here out of the Tennessee river last night and left on her return up that stream this morning at 10 o'clock.

The City of Clarksville cleared for Elizabethtown today at noon, doing a fair freight business.

The towboat Kenton arrived here late yesterday afternoon from Caseyville with a tow of coal.

A big consignment of cattle was brought out of Tennessee river on the Staggs last night for the stock yards here.

The John S. Hopkins was the Evansville mail liner this morning, but had not arrived at a late hour. She is expected to be in and out before dark tonight, however.

The towboat S. D. Blair arrived here this morning from Vicksburg where she has been engaged in doing government dredging in the Mississippi river. She had in tow a sand digger and two scows. She left for the upper Ohio to go into winter quarters.

Capt. Voight arrived here this morning from Cairo to which place he took the Chattanooga yesterday from there a Mississippi river pilot her to St. Louis.

The present good weather has put a check to the rise in the river, the rise of the last twelve hours being only one-tenth.

The towboat Charley McDonald will be put in the river off the ways this afternoon, after undergoing repairs there for several weeks. It will be several days yet until she is declared ready for service, as it will take that length of time to line her up.

The towboat S. D. Blair, while on her way up the Mississippi, burned her boiler, which had to be repaired at Cairo.

The ways will be idle tomorrow for the first time for the work of work for many months. The McDonald, which they have been repairing, was let in the river this afternoon, and tomorrow they will lay idle after a very busy season. They have done an extensive amount of repairing work this past summer, which has been one of the most active that the ways has experienced for years.

DEATHS.

If Dr. Brooks Will Run, There Will Be a Lively Contest.

There may be an interesting contest over the presidency of the Board of Education when the election is entered into next Tuesday.

Mr. C. M. Leake is thus far the only announced candidate, but Dr. J. G. Brooks' many friends are endeavoring to persuade him to enter the race. Should he consent to permit his name to go before the board, he would no doubt receive some support.

Mr. Leake's friends claim that custom makes law, and that it has always been the custom in the school board to elect the vice president of the board when the president dies or resigns. Dr. Brooks' friends claim that this kind of law is easily broken.

Mr. J. Andy Bauer will probably succeed Dr. Lang as a member from the First ward—when the vacancy is filled.

A PRETTY ROMANCE.

Young Lady of the County Meets a Stranger With Whom She Corresponds.

Recognized Each Other on Broadway By Blue Ribbons—A Wedding Expected.

A pretty little romance comes from the Maxon's mills section of the county, involving a pretty and prominent young lady of the vicinity, daughter of a late distinguished Populist leader, and a stranger from Ohio.

About five years ago, so the story goes, the young lady saw, through a paper, the gentleman's name, and they began a correspondence, which never ceased during the five years.

A date to come to Paducah.

At this fair correspondence, and after arrangements were completed she sent him a tiny blue bow, and informed him that she had retained one herself. They were to meet each other in Paducah, and establish mutual recognition by the emblem—a blue ribbon.

The gentlemen arrived on time, and conspicuous on his coat was the blue bow, as he sauntered up one side of Broadway and down the other.

His unknown acquaintance—if there is such a thing—was not so bold at first. She desired to see what manner of man it was she was to meet, and although she wore her bow on her waist she pulled her cloak over it, and walked past the gentleman several times before she finally pulled the cloak open and displayed the token of recognition. They shook hands, had a pleasant conversation, and the result is the gentleman, who is a fine, genteel-looking man, is now a guest at the young lady's home near Maxon's, and the residents of the neighborhood are all greatly interested in the romantic affair.

Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar Honey advances a new theory in the treatment of all cough, lung and bronchial troubles. It cures and cures quickly. Absolutely harmless and pleasant to take. It cuts loose the mucous without exertion or straining and stops the cough at once. It heals the inflamed parts. It gives vigor and vitality to the respiratory organs. It enables the blood to receive the proper supply of oxygen. It builds up the system, rendering it less susceptible to cold. 29n5

GREATER AND GRANDER... BARGAINS IN CLOTHING AND SHOES THIS WEEK THAN EVER

There is a bright future for our shoe business. It ought to be so, for two practical reasons: First, that each pair is guaranteed to render good service; second, that we sell shoes a trifle cheaper, which means cheaper than those who serve the people with honesty. Now is your time to get your fall and winter clothing and shoes, on which we can help you to save from 25 to 35 per cent.

On men's, boys' and children's clothing and shoes we have some tempting bargains.

We also carry a big assortment of underwear, overshirts, hats, caps, gloves, etc., which we will close out at greatly reduced prices.

SOMETHING NEW

About December 8 or 10 we will introduce something new, in the drug or any other line, to the people of Paducah.

LOOK FOR IT

We can hardly keep from giving it away, but the next week we will almost give them away. You want to come around if you wish to be pleased and delighted—and it will please and delight old and young, rich and poor.

IN THE MEANTIME

If you are hoarse and have a tickling in the throat, try a box of Bacon's Cough Drops. A stranger bought a box, and they did him so much good that before leaving town he came around and bought several boxes. He wanted something to remember the town by, and they were the best things he found in the city. When you buy a bottle of Fine-Tar-Honey, include a box of Bacon's Cough Drops. They are not like confectioners' drops, but will do you good—tastes good, too.
